

Leading the Way

Course Description:

Leadership positions require the understanding and development of credibility and authority. Leading people doesn't have to be hard once you understand the various motivations and frustrations people have. Developing and managing a team can be very rewarding when the right skills are developed, and the right tools are used. This course provides the tools needed to be an effective leader. Even a seasoned manager will benefit greatly from this course.

Course Objectives:

After completing this course, participants will have the tools and a deep understanding of how to develop into a leader who can manage, motivate, implement change, and build a cohesive team.

In this course, participants will:

- Build credibility right out of the gate.
- Develop good leadership habits.
- Develop effective communication skills.
- Understand how to create a culture of trust and accountability.
- Learn how to deal with difficult people and situations.
- Understand how critical Emotional Intelligence plays a role in leadership.
- Develop a leadership mindset.
- Develop self-reliance.
- Increase personal accountability.
- Learn how to manage friends and co-workers.
- Learn how to positively influence people.

